ABOUT US

History

Established in 1987, the Foundation is the state's only non-profit foundation statutorily created to provide scholarships, loan repayments and programs to health professional students and graduates throughout California who agree to practice in medically underserved areas. The Foundation, housed in the Office of Statewide Health Planning and Development, administers different programs targeting allied health, nurses, mental health providers, physicians and other healthcare professionals. Its outstanding track record of delivering healthcare providers to underserved areas of California has resulted in approximately 2,700 scholarship and loan repayment awards totaling over $25 million to students and recent graduates practicing in 51 of California's 58 counties since December 1990.

A LIFE CHANGED: THE THERESA MORALES STORY

Theresa Morales always dreamed of contributing to her community by attaining a Master's Degree in Social Work. As a poor, working student at American River College, she could barely afford tuition and was forced to enroll in public assistance to make ends meet. Theresa's determination to end the cycle of poverty for her family led her to apply for the Foundation's Allied Healthcare Scholarship, for which she was awarded $2,500 to complete her studies. Theresa Morales' ambition and hard work exemplify the very heart and mission of the Health Professions Education Foundation. She has gone on to provide direct patient care in a medically underserved area, and continues to serve her community as a professor of Gerontology at American River College.

THANK YOU LETTER

I first want to thank the Health Professions Education Foundation for allowing me to participate in the Physician Loan Repayment Program. At Natividad Medical Center in Salinas, I have had the privilege of taking care of some of the hardest working, most indigent, and most grateful people in all of Monterey County. The great majority of the patients I care for are of Mexican heritage and are a critical component to the agricultural labor force and economy in the Salinas Valley. The loan repayment program has been very helpful in assisting me in this mission and I thank you all very much.

—James J. Helmer, Jr., M.D.

"A 2000 study of the National Health Service Corps found that two years after their service obligation ended, more than 70% of all providers remained in the same area of service. In fact, more than 15 years after their service obligation ended, more than 50% remained in their area of service."

By 2010, California will need an additional 47,600 nurses and 5,000 to 17,000 additional physicians by 2015.

A MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR OF OSHPD

2007 was the year California embarked on healthcare reform. With his January State of the State message, Governor Schwarzenegger announced an ongoing-effort to expand access to health insurance coverage for the almost 7 million Californians who are presently uninsured. Implicit in the concept that expansion of health insurance would increase the demand for healthcare services was the realization that California would need more health professionals, particularly to address the needs of today's underserved areas and populations. This is the role of the Health Professions Education Foundation: expanding access to care for the millions of underinsured and uninsured Californians who live in our state's medically underserved areas.

Despite all that California spends on healthcare, nearly 7 million Californians, or roughly 20% of the state's population, face challenges in obtaining health services as they reside in one of California's primary care health professions shortage areas. Access to quality care is further exacerbated by California's current and impending shortages across most healthcare occupations, the geographic mal-distribution of many health professionals, and variation in their degree of cultural competency.

Since 1990, the Foundation has successfully met its mission to improve access to healthcare in underserved areas. Thank you for your continued support in the Foundation and its mission of providing golden opportunities. I encourage you to continue to provide this support, and in turn, contribute to the solution of California's access to healthcare problem, one professional at a time.

David M. Carlisle, M.D., Ph.D., Director, Office of Statewide Health Planning and Development

A MESSAGE FROM OUR CHAIRMAN

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, it is my privilege to present the Health Professions Education Foundation's Annual Report for 2007.

Your generous support of the Foundation is most appreciated and allows the expansion of quality and equitable healthcare to California while serving the needs of our health professions students and workforce. I would like to share the 2006-2007 accomplishments of the Health Professions Education Foundation:

- Nearly $2.4 million in grants were awarded through the Foundation's scholarships and loan repayment programs.
- Contribution and grant commitments supporting the Foundation totaled over $3.1 million.
- 133 California health professional students and graduates representing 30 counties were awarded Foundation scholarships and loan repayment grants.
- Foundation staff attended 13 job fairs and community outreach events throughout California aimed at promoting our scholarship and loan repayment programs.

The Board of Trustees looks forward to continuing its support of health professions students and graduates who want to work in medically underserved areas. I invite you to visit the Health Professions Education Foundation's website at: www.healthprofessions.ca.gov, and participate in "Giving Golden Opportunities"!

Gary Gitnick, M.D., Chairman, Health Professions Education Foundation

OUR BENEFICIARIES

Our scholarship and loan repayment recipients are "gifts that keep on giving" in the communities they serve. For example, one primary care physician – whose loan is repaid by the Foundation – can have 8,000 direct patient visits per year. After three years, those physicians have encountered 24,000 patients throughout their service obligation. More than half of all award recipients stay in the community in which they fulfill their service obligation, contributing to improved access to healthcare in those underserved communities.

FUNDING

The Health Professions Education Foundation is positioned to address its mission of improving healthcare in underserved areas of California. With new leadership and a refined focus, we stand ready to increase access to healthcare services.

There have been major developments in the Foundation's portfolio this past year. The Foundation implemented the Mental Health Practitioner Education Fund, which will increase the number of mental health practitioners in underserved areas of California. Funded by a $10 surcharge on biennial licensing fees from clinical social workers, marriage and family therapists and psychologists, this fund will generate $280,000 in revenue annually. Further, the Foundation implemented the Vocational Nurse Scholarship and Loan Repayment Program. Its inaugural cycle was funded by a grant from the California Wellness Foundation and well as a $5 surcharge on biennial licensing fees from vocational nurses. The Foundation also continued to disburse scholarships and loan repayments funded by a $1 million grant from the Vitamin Cases Settlement Fund.

The Foundation is staying on course, deepening its relationships with current funders, expanding the number of potential partners and building support for new programs funded by permanent and stable sources of revenue. We encourage you to give the Foundation your financial support. Your contribution will have an immediate impact on the health of underserved communities throughout the state. Thank you for your continued support of the mission and vision of the Health Professions Education Foundation.

GIVING

Donors can create an enduring charitable legacy with gifts that support the expansion of healthcare services to underserved communities in California. Your generous gift will allow the Foundation to continue giving golden opportunities to students and recent graduates who will provide direct care to communities in most need.

Donors may select among the following options:

- Unrestricted funds provide the most flexibility, enabling the Foundation to respond to program and healthcare workforce needs as they emerge.
- Restricted funds are established by donors to reflect their personal charitable interest and may be delineated by geographic area, specific population or interest.
- Corporate Charitable Gifts allow companies to meet philanthropic goals while saving the cost of in-house management.

There is a wide range of options for giving. For example, gifts of cash, stock and other securities, and real estate may be donated. Requests may also be passed on to the Foundation through a donor's last will and testament. In addition, a life income gift or charitable trust may be established to provide sustained or future funding. In-kind gifts of professional services, equipment, and conference facilities are also greatly appreciated.

Advantages for Donors:

- Bequest
- Professional Management
- Tax Deductible
- Grantmaking
- Public Accountability

82 cents of every dollar that is donated goes to award a health professional practicing in a medically underserved area.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

To the Board of Trustees of Health Professions Education Foundation

I have audited the accompanying statement of financial position of the Health Professions Education Foundation (a non-profit organization) as of June 30, 2007 and related statements of activity and changes in net assets, functional expenses and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Health Professions Education Foundation's management. My responsibility is to express opinion on these financial statements based on my audit.

I conducted my audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that I plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. I believe that my audit provides a reasonable basis for my opinion.

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Health Professions Education Foundation as of June 30, 2007, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.
