1. Welcome and Introductions

Mr. Donelan called the meeting to order. Those in attendance introduced themselves.
2. Review and Approve March 5, 2015 Meeting Report / Minutes

MOTION: (M/S/C/) [Hurlbut/La Brie]

The committee voted unanimously to adopt the March 5, 2015 meeting minutes.

3. 2015 Seminar Planning & Development

Mr. Donelan stated that the committee was considering two seminars for 2015: Building Relationships for a Successful Project and Inspector of Record (IOR) Training.

- Subjects:
  - Building Relationships for a Successful Project
    - Roles of the design professional
    - Roles of others – owner, builder/contractor, construction manager/project manager, OSHPD FDD field staff
    - Roles of the Inspector of Record

Mr. La Brie stated that he had sent a draft agenda to Paul Coleman. Mr. La Brie wished to discuss this draft, included below, with the committee.

1. Solicit participation in advance by means of a polling group comprised of industry stakeholders, each of whom has a different role.
2. Create a list of questions for them (possibly anonymous). Questions would concern project interaction, roles and responsibilities, authority of stakeholders, relationship boundaries, conflicts of interest, stakeholder duties, and performance constraints.
3. Analyze the results and produce a body of content for the seminar.
4. Identify case studies for the seminar.

5. Do an analysis of what the code says regarding responsibilities/who is supposed to do what.

6. Identify acceptable areas of variability. Compare what we think, what we do, and what the code says we are supposed to do.

7. Have a panel discussion about all of the prior content.

Mr. Karpinen asked how many people would be polled. Mr. La Brie replied that the more the better; 100 or more would be great.

Ms. Scaturro asked if part of the questions would concern what we see in code that varies from what actual practice wants to be. Mr. La Brie confirmed that they would.

Mr. La Brie felt that the questions could create positive buzz in the industry, with everyone understanding each other’s roles and contributions better.

Mr. Hurlbut suggested that everyone on the Board could talk to five business associates from within their discipline. It could be a good way to reach out to people, even getting them to explain their complaints about OSHPD.

Mr. Johnson asked how the poll would be conducted. Mr. La Brie responded that he did not want to load up OHSPD staff with work from this committee. Committee members could think in terms of their areas of expertise, and ask questions that would be interesting to that demographic. Mr. La Brie acknowledged that much work would be involved.

Mr. Karpinen suggested SurveyMonkey for anonymous questions.

Ms. Scaturro suggested having extended one-on-one conversations with stakeholders in addition to providing them the survey. Mr. Donelan agreed.

Mr. Coleman felt that the seminar proposal was good. We need better feedback from the industry about what the issues are. Also, there are some misconceptions about roles; we need to get to the root of the causes.

Mr. Donelan noted that good will could be dispensed as the committee tries to understand what stakeholders think. Mr. Coleman agreed that people like to feel involved and to feel part of the process.

Mr. Donelan stated that hospitals do things differently from one to the next, so he had added Acceptable Variability to the list. Mr. Coleman mentioned the factor of scalability from small projects to large.

Ms. Scaturro noted that many seminars address delivery methods. This committee’s focus should be generic roles in the context of statute with enforcement by OSHPD. Mr. Coleman agreed that regardless of the delivery method, each group has its own roles and responsibilities; that’s what we need to stress.
Mr. La Brie noted that the challenges associated with each different approach would no doubt come out.

He answered a question from Mr. Karpinen about survey format: it should be both multiple choice and long answer. Mr. La Brie volunteered to map out a seminar development process.

Ms. Scaturro suggested having a seminar work plan ready for the full Board meeting on May 6. Mr. La Brie volunteered to create a PowerPoint for the meeting; the group agreed to submit this as a specific agenda item.

Mr. Donelan clarified the objective: for Mr. La Brie to develop the work plan for presentation at the May 6 Board meeting – the work plan being development of the portion of the seminar on building relationships for a successful project.

Mr. Hurlbut suggested for Mr. La Brie to send a draft out to the committee members a week before the meeting so they could comment. He agreed.

Mr. Karpinen asked about a target date for the seminar. Mr. Coleman surmised that to hold a seminar in October, the surveys need to be disseminated by the end of May to have the results by the middle of June.
Mr. La Brie requested the committee members send him questions for inclusion on the survey. The next committee meeting is scheduled for June 3; the committee will finalize the survey then.

- Buildings Removed from Acute Care Services

Mr. Donelan noted that some specific issues have come up on this topic.

- Materially Alter
  - Criteria

Mr. Donelan mentioned that this topic is always very popular.

- Inspection Service Unit Training
  - Topic development

Mr. Donelan has received input from Mike Hooper, who has recently been appointed to the Board.

Mr. Coleman felt that Materially Alter does fit with the topic of Building Relationships for a Successful Project. There are many different roles involved in determining Materially Alter.

He continued that currently there are many issues that OSHPD is sorting out regarding Buildings Removed from Acute Care Services. Inspection Service Unit Training is a specific topic; the delivery methods would also be significant – webinars, videos, and so on.
Mr. Donelan shared items for additional IOR training that Mr. Hoover had given:

- General Code Training
- CAN 2-107.4 Amended Construction Documents
- PINs 38, 55, and 58.
- How to successfully utilize the FREER Manual
- “Hospital Remodel Projects”
- “Observations by the Office”

Mr. Coleman observed that some of the items would actually fit the Building Relationships for a Successful Project seminar. They could be included as separate training perhaps done by OSHPD’s Inspection Services Unit.

- Schedule

  Mr. Donelan stated that the seminar target dates were September or October, depending on how long the development process was going to take.

- Delivery methods

  The group considered panel discussions to be effective. Mr. Coleman said that a panel could be comprised of speakers from the different entities involved, with each giving a presentation on their role. Afterward there would be interaction with the audience.

- Venues

  Mr. Donelan stated that further into the process the committee would talk about venues.
• Discussion and Public Input

Mr. Karpinen suggested that a survey question could be to ask what kind of delivery method people prefer.

The group discussed having breakout sessions. Mr. Coleman noted that they can complicate a seminar because of the need for extra rooms and equipment.

Mr. Donelan requested the group to send him any additional ideas for how to go forward.

4. Comments from Committee Members and the Public on Issues Not on This Agenda

An Interested Party suggested the topic of shake testing that manufacturers go through. It makes for an interesting presentation, and many people with the hospital facilities and design groups are not aware of what goes on behind the scenes.

Mr. Coleman commented that this topic could fit into the IOR section.

An Interested Party asked about field staff training for OSHPD – frequency of meetings, peer group meetings, formalized training. Mr. Coleman answered that in Los Angeles they hold meetings every two months; in Sacramento they hold them quarterly. The meetings have a training component as well as an issues component that establishes methods of dealing with them consistently. The meetings are open to the public.
The Interested Party felt that there would be benefit to having field staff attend the seminars. Mr. Coleman responded that it's been done successfully in the past; availability of space can be a factor. He was open to trying this. The Interested Party suggested having field staff occasionally attend the IOR meetings, with a section of the meetings devoted to general training.

Mr. Coleman announced upcoming training opportunities on the topic of SPC 4D.

5. Adjournment

Mr. Donelan adjourned the meeting at 11:19 a.m.
