The California Primary Care Shortage Areas corresponds to the 2000 U.S. Census and uses two criteria of percent population below 100% poverty level and primary care physician to population ratio. Data used include Claritas 2007 population estimates and InfoUSA 2009 Physicians.